

Master of School Administration (MSA) Regional Hybrid & Online Cohorts

The Master of School Administration degree (MSA) is designed to prepare you to become a school leader. Program studies include a significant service leadership component. ECU faculty deliver MSA course content in an instructional environment that encourages and supports you to serve as a problem-solver, communicator, innovator, collaborator, and change agent in your school and school district. It is vital that you have a supportive school and district setting where you can complete these service leadership experiences.

The MSA program consists of 42 semester hours (s.h.), including 27 s.h. of coursework and 15 s.h. of a year-long internship as follows:

Core: 27 s.h. - LEED 6901, 6902, 6903, 6904, 6905, 6906, 6907, 6908, 6909

Internship: 15 s.h. - LEED 6921, 6922, 6924, 6925.

At the end of the final semester, students will have completed seven service leadership projects (SLPs) and provided the written documentation of these projects via a webfolio. Following the successful completion of the degree requirements, including SLPs, students will receive the North Carolina principal license (012, class P). No Praxis is required to earn the principal license when the MSA program requirements are met. Students are also eligible to take the Praxis for Educational Leadership exam to add the North Carolina curriculum instruction specialist level 1 license (113, class S).

Students pursue the MSA part-time and continue to teach/work full-time, while attending courses in the evenings once per week. Students can choose to participate in the regional hybrid option or the online option. The regional hybrid option requires face-to-face meetings at a regional location once per week. The online option requires students to meet online once per week in a virtual classroom setting.

Start of program: once per year – during the 2nd summer term (typically last week in June)

Length of time required: six continuous semesters (including summer terms)/2 years total

Delivery method: students select a hybrid model with coursework delivered face-to-face and online OR a completely online option

Location of face-to-face meetings: off campus partner locations (schools, community colleges, etc.), which vary each year based on the location of most of the students – past cohorts have been in Craven, Johnston, Onslow, Wake, and Wayne counties.

Number of students admitted: the Educational Leadership department typically admits 3 cohorts per year with an estimated total of 45 students

Tuition: approximately $12,180. Courses are classified as Distance Education at approximately $290 per credit hour (about 1/3 the cost of on-campus courses). Courses are typically 3 semester hours, which equates to approximately $870 per course.

Schedule: students take 2 courses per semester in the evenings, typically 5:30-8:30pm.

Online option details: For students who are not within driving distance of a cohort location – the online cohort still meets one day per week virtually and possibly once per month in the fall and spring in a face-to-face setting during the 2nd year of the program.
